

War With Japan Is Brewing Now, Says Premier Of Russia

Tells Parley P. Christensen His Country Has Furs to Trade for Food for Victims of Widespread Russian Famine

ADMITS SOVIET FAILURE

Soviet Program and His Own Have Gone Right to Bottom, Lenine Says—Hopes America Will Help Nation Back on Its Feet

Riga—"Feed our famine victims and your wives will wear furs."

This is the message of Premier Lenine of Russia to the American farmers. It was given to me in a two day interview in which Lenine:

1. Predicted a war between the United States and Japan and;
2. Admitted his soviet communistic program had "gone right to the bottom."

I went to Moscow Oct. 28 as chair man of the Russian trade relations commission. I studied conditions and visited many factories, warehouses, courts, schools and hospitals.

No particular attention was paid to my presence until Saturday when I received a message from one of the people's commissaries whom I found upon investigation to be Lenine, saying he wanted to see me.

"Glad to see you, Christensen," said Lenine as he received me courteously at the Kremlin. He spoke excellent English. We had a two hour conversation.

After I had responded to his greeting and also spoken to a number of farmers and workers who were in an anteroom, Lenine's first question was:

"What about the war between Japan and America?"

"I do not think a war is likely," I replied.

"There's bound to be a capitalistic war," insisted the premier.

"I have not been to Japan," I said, "but I know that Japan and America are friends. Not only their governments but their people are friendly."

"But," replied Lenine, "you know war is the very best industry of the capitalists and that is the kind of government you have."

"I do not believe a war with Japan is possible," I said. "The world has had enough of war."

Lenine's response was emphatic. He said:

"Oh, no, it hasn't. One is bound to come. It's brewing now."

We then turned to the disarmament conference and Lenine said:

"I do not know but I fear there will not be much of a result—perhaps some alliances. Don't you think an Anglo-American-Japanese alliance is the most probable?"

"I hope there will be no alliances leading to misunderstandings and troubles," I said.

FAMINE SITUATION WORSE

When I mentioned the Russian famine, Lenine said:

"The work is progressing quite as we expected but we need more grain. Winter is coming and the situation will be worse. Why don't American farmers send us wheat and receive our raw materials."

"What have you?" I asked.

"Feed our famine victims and wear furs," replied Lenine quickly. "We can put furs on your wives. We have inexhaustible supplies of minerals, forests to make pulp for years, bristles, caviar etc."

"What happened to your program?" I asked him the next day.

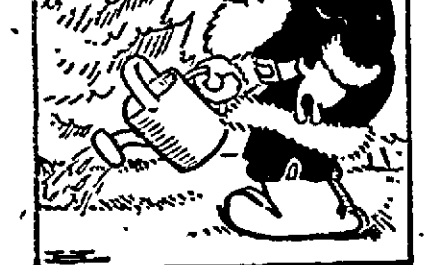

"It's all gone right to the bottom, the soviet program as well as mine," he said.

Far Eastern Questions Disposed of More Quickly Than Nations' Ever Hoped

By David Lawrence

Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co. Washington—Enough has transpired within the last 24 hours to warrant a positive prediction that an agreement will be reached within another week on the program for a reduction of naval armament and a naval shipbuilding holiday.

No longer is there worry about the outcome, prolonged as the debate may be. For the truth is the Japanese hand has been disclosed. It is the hand of old world diplomacy which rarely accepts anything right off the bat but considers it carefully; asks for more, appears to be deeply insistent on more concessions and finally with a gesture of generosity recedes in the interest of common agreement.

For several days the views of Baron Kato, minister of marine, have been put out in one form or another giving the impression that Japan was adamant in her desire for a higher ratio than the so-called 5-5-3. Now comes Prince Tokugawa, the head of the delegation, and in a talk with newspaper men, lays stress on the fact that Baron Kato was expressing his personal views. This, however, isn't the only basis for the idea that Japan is prepared to make good her original acceptance of the Hughes program. In the face of a European and American entente, Japan cannot afford to stand alone. She now knows the dangers which might ensue from too great insistence of her own viewpoint. She knows for instance that Secretary Hughes is not in a bargaining mood and that if Japan means to alter the existing strength of the American and Japanese navy there will be no naval holiday and no reduction of armament.

REAL PROGRESS MADE

The conference is having its ups and downs, its exasperating delays and discouragements but relatively speaking they are infinitesimal compared to the multiplicity of differences which developed at the Paris conference. And the progress being made here, slow as it may seem to those anxious for quick results, is rapidly itself compared to the Paris procedure.

The most surprising thing about the whole conference thus far is the fact that the Far Eastern questions are being disposed of more quickly than the European experts ever dreamed. Perhaps this is because the conference started out with definite principles and is simply trying to apply them to specific cases. Perhaps it is because Japan herself is not so much of an obstacle to agreement as some people thought she would be. After all it is much more to the interest of Japan that an agreement should be reached on Far Eastern questions than it is to any other power here except possibly China. For it is evident to the Japanese that they can accomplish little by direct negotiations with the Chinese because of the latter's interminable distrust of everything Japanese. From the beginning the attitude of Japan has been the key to the words "success" or "failure" at this conference but the Japanese have given evidence in more ways than one that they will not take the responsibility before the world of breaking up the Washington conference and placing themselves in a position of moral isolation which would be permanently injurious to Japanese plans for expansion.

Parents of the baby Margaret said Mrs. Pensis frequently asked them to allow the child to come over for a while.

Police believe Mrs. Pensis had Margaret in her home since the girl disappeared and committed suicide Thursday when she saw police tramping about the neighborhood.

Margaret, daughter of Edward Caughlin, a policeman, disappeared while returning from the home of another neighbor where she had visited.

All night search was led by the father.

Efforts of police to gain admittance to the Pensis home failed. They smashed the door.

Search on the second floor revealed the body of Mrs. Pensis.

In the basement portions of Margaret's body were found strewn about.

MRS. "DOUG" FAIRBANKS ILL; EMBARKS FOR U. S.

By United Press Leased Wire London—Mrs. Mary Pickford Fairbanks is suffering from tonsillitis and will return to America sailing Monday with her husband, it was learned here Thursday.

"It is nothing serious," her husband, Douglas, insisted. "She has been feeling badly for a couple of days and we just decided we would return on the liner Paris a few weeks earlier than we intended."

MASKED BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $8,000 IN JEWELS

South St. Paul—Two masked and armed bandits held up C. R. Lundman at the Lundman Brothers Jewelry store here early Thursday and escaped with $8,000 worth of jewels. The men bound and gagged Lundman and locked him in a closet.

Lundman freed himself and his shouts were heard by a tailor next door. Police broke down the door.

China Demanding Return Of Shantung; Japs To Bargain

League Of Nations Again Is Big Topic

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—The league of nations issue has been brought back to life in the senate and the country at large by President Harding's announcement that he hopes the arms conference will develop into an association of nations.

Harding will be urged to submit the league covenant to the senate with Americanizing reservations. Influential league advocates are preparing to organize anew the public sentiment in the country for the league.

The suggestion of such a possibility arouses violent opposition among senators but there are still many who believe entrance into the league of nations the best thing for the United States.

Harding may find himself urged to this course by three of his most influential Republican friends—Hughes, Root and Taft.

MAY GET IN LEAGUE

The nebulous state of the "association" plan which Harding himself says he has not developed in detail gives him a good opportunity, league advocates hold, to entering the existing league under proper safeguards.

Advantages of this course, league advocates say include:

1. European and South American nations already in the league would not abandon the league to join Harding's association, but they would agree to almost any conditions specified by the United States for its entrance into the existing league.

2. The existing league is well understood by the American people and in an Americanized form, would be acceptable to them.

3. The existing league has definite limits to its authority whereas the outline given by Harding of his association means to contemplate practically no limits to the scope of the organization and no check upon its powers.

Berlin—Germany is entirely in sympathy with the Harding association of nations plan. Dr. Von Simons, former foreign minister, declared in an interview with the United Press here Thursday.

"The new slogan of the majority of German people is—it shall not be again," Von Simons said. "For this reason Germany could not mobilize her forces for another war even if she wished."

STRANGLER DRUGGIST IS FOUND IN ROOM

Chicago—Samuel Rexford Storer, 40, was found strangled to death in a rooming house here Thursday. His room had been ransacked. His feet were bound together with rope. A towel was tied around his neck. Storer was a druggist.

Growsome Discovery Ends Hunt For Child

Dismembered Body of Policeman's Daughter is Found in Basement of Home of Neighbor Woman Also Lying Dead.

By United Press Leased Wire Chicago—The body of three year old Margaret Caughlin, kidnapped Wednesday, was found Thursday dismembered and partly burned in the basement of a neighbor's home.

The body of the neighbor, Mrs. Pensis, 52, was found in her bed room with her throat cut from ear to ear and a gory butcher knife in her hand.

Police believe Mrs. Pensis had killed the child and then committed suicide. Mrs. Pensis' husband was missing however and a posse started search for him.

An exhaustive inquiry was ordered by the coroner to determine if the two might have been slain.

Mrs. Pensis was fond of children, according to neighbors, and often expressed a desire to have babies of her own.

Parents of the baby Margaret said Mrs. Pensis frequently asked them to allow the child to come over for a while.

Police believe Mrs. Pensis had Margaret in her home since the girl disappeared and committed suicide Thursday when she saw police tramping about the neighborhood.

Margaret, daughter of Edward Caughlin, a policeman, disappeared while returning from the home of another neighbor where she had visited.

All night search was led by the father.

WANTS CHICAGO TO BUY $30,000 WORTH OF COAL FOR POOR

New Working Rules Victory For Rails

Railroad Labor Board Saves $50,000,000 For Railroads By Permitting Men To Do Other Work Than That For Which They Were Hired

By United Press Leased Wire Chicago—Working agreements between carriers and shop employees, branded as "oppressive" by carriers, were overthrown Thursday and a new set which will save the roads $50,000,000 a year were put into effect.

The new rules were promulgated by the United States railroad labor board in the interest of economy. Formerly, employees were not permitted to do any work other than in their own craft.

Under the rules that became effective Thursday, employees in many cases, may be put on other work when all the available employment in their craft is done.

"The 'open shop' principle was recognized in the decision which promulgated 148 new working rules," under the plan which went into effect Thursday, minorities in railroad shops will be represented on grievance committees.

RECOGNIZED OPEN SHOP

In the past union representatives represented all the men in the shops whether they were affiliated with the labor organizations. The board stated, however, the open shop ruling is more important theoretically than actually because only a small percentage of rail employees are unionized.

Another rule provides that machinists making repairs on equipment may disconnect wires and pipes. Under the old agreement this work could only be done by electricians or sheet metal workers.

Only the Federated Shop Crafts of the American Federation of Labor are affected by the ruling.

The crafts who started to work under the new agreements are: Carpenters, blacksmiths, dropforgers, sheet-metal workers, machinists, boiler-makers and electrical workers.

Bert M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor would not comment on the drastic changes, which are considered a victory by the carriers, until he had carefully studied the text of the ruling.

FRANCE WANTS GERMANY TO ADMIT BANKRUPTCY

Paris—The French government is considering a counter proposal to the German reparations moratorium plan. It was learned here Thursday.

This French solution would provide that Germany admit her bankruptcy and organize a commission to control her assets and customs, and also to organize a financial administration of her occupied areas.

EIGHT ARE KILLED IN OREGON TRAIN CRASH

Portland, Ore.—Eight were killed and 21 injured when train No. 12 and No. 17 of the Union Pacific crashed head-on near Celilo, 50 miles from here at 5:30 a. m. Thursday according to a trainmaster's report.

Use Hypnotism To Cure Her Dual Personality

By United Press Leased Wire Columbus, Ohio—Bernice Redick will soon have sole possession of her own body again. Dr. H. B. Goddard, psychologist, declared Thursday announcing existing of a strange case of dual personality.

Bernice Redick, 19 years old and Polly Redick, 4 years old—total strangers until a few weeks ago—have been occupying the same human body. But science is slowly killing Polly in an effort to save the life of Bernice.

Hypnotism is working the cure in the peculiar scientific case.

The girl, formerly a high school pupil at Lisbon, Ohio, was brought to the juvenile research bureau here two months ago for treatment.

"She was possessed of two distinct personalities," Dr. Goddard said. "In a single day she changed back and forth eleven times from a four year old girl, to her normal self, a 19 year old girl."

"The four year old personality said its name was Polly. It was normal."

Navy Dispute Is Held Up By East Problem

China Is Willing to Pledge Protection to Japs Against Return of Leaseholds to Germany—Were Bone of Contention With Japs.

Washington—The Chinese delegation is demanding Shantung back "without condition."

This stand was made known by competent authority connected with the delegation Thursday prior to the afternoon session in which Secretary of State Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour, using their "good offices" needed to arrive at conclusions with the Chinese and Japanese delegations, "outside of court" regarding the thorny Shantung problem.

In making this unconditional demand, China offers to promise Japan that she will not cede the former German leasehold to any other power. This pledge is designed to meet the Japanese claim—the Chinese call it "protection"—under which the Japanese have clung to Shantung.

This position represents the maximum but does not mean China will not compromise. She will if that is necessary.

WANTS RAILROAD

On the other hand, Japan is ready to quit Shantung physically but wants a joint control of the so-called "Big Three" railroad. China is unwilling to meet this suggestion and asks that the railway be given to the Chinese board of communications to control.

Any demand by the Japanese for indemnities, arising from her seizure of the territory from the Germans will be countered by the Chinese who, she claims, that Japan should either be content with having been able to make off Germany's share of the spoils or reimbursements.

The Japanese look for no adjustment of the naval ratio dispute with the main Far Eastern questions are cleared.

They let it be known Thursday that they anticipate fully two weeks delay in getting a brass-tack settlement by the big three—Hughes, Balfour and Kato—mainly, they think because America in view of past statements about the Far East, wants the latter subject settled first.

STUDY NAVY PROBLEM

With the fate of the Hughes naval program taken out of the realm of arithmetic, the "big three" statesmen have the question of a decision before them.

They will be guided by the rules of a cross-the-table talk without the public present and the predictions were that before the next plenary session, they will have thrashed out a satisfactory solution.

America stands for paring Japan's navy to 60 per cent that of Britain's or our own. The Japanese still are for a 70 per cent navy saying "national security demands it."

To careful observers this insistence on a larger navy upon this basis means Japan wants to bargain. The bargain now sought is removal of American Pacific fortifications, which she believes makes for an insecurity of her shores. So she thought the coincidence of the private Shantung settlement and the "Big Three" situation in the naval moment question may be significant. In other words if Japan has points to insist upon in the Shantung question, she could best accomplish her ends by using the naval ratio problem as a club.

FRANCE SPEAKS

French naval experts Thursday avowed a plan which would avoid the inclusion of France in the Hughes naval ratio program. France feels that since her navy at present is below the sweeping cut in armaments proposed for naval powers, limitation of her future navy would be an infringement upon her sovereignty.

To reconcile these two attitudes, French naval experts and the Admiral Delans, have worked out their plan, which will be presented to the conference. France, asking to be left out of the ratio scheme, will present her building program for the next ten years. She will guarantee not to exceed it.

U. S. DESTROYER AGROUND IN FOG

San Francisco—The United States destroyer Delans went ashore ten miles south of San Francisco, according to a wireless Thursday.

The crew is reported safe. The Delans ran ashore on a rock coast during a heavy fog.

The tug Fearless and the coast guard cutters from the Golden Gate and Port Point stations went to give assistance.

The weather continued thick and the swell heavy.

The Delans is reported not to be seriously damaged.

ROTARIANS SET FOR BOY SCOUT BENEFIT TONIGHT

for Play in Lawrence
Memorial Chapel

The splendid way in which the dress rehearsal of "The Turn of Mind" and "A Night in Camp" went off at Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening indicates that the people who are backing the Boy Scouts will be given an unusually fine program. The characters in the play are doing their parts as high school boys and girls, and their mothers and fathers, better than was anticipated when the Rotary club decided to give the benefit for the local Boy Scouts.

Every part of the encampment scene which more than 40 Scouts are putting on as part of the evening's entertainment is typical of the nights which they spent in camp. The boys themselves, representative of all the troops which were at camp this summer, have worked out the scene and are presenting it with the assistance of Miss Ruth McKennan and Leigh Hooley.

The Quality Quartet, drilled by Prof. Carl Waterman of Lawrence Conservatory of Music includes Harry Willson, Harold McGowan, William Eddy and Clinton McCready. The program which they will present contains five numbers, "A Song Greeting," "Gypsy Trail," "I Don't," "The Drum," "The Misfortunes of Belinda."

Seats for the entertainment, may be procured at Lawrence Memorial chapel before the performance which begins at 8:15 or at the Belling Drug store during the day. Many of the choicest seats were taken immediately upon the opening of the sale, because of the large seating capacity of the Lawrence chapel many splendid seats are still available.

High school girls have been chosen to act as usherettes. Girl Scouts from Troop 1 and 2 who are in high school will also help in seating the audience.

WALKER Praised AS ORATOR AND AS ENEMY OF LEAGUE

North Dakota Man Comes Here Highly Recommended as a Speaker

Dozens of letters praising Dr. H. Garfield Walker as an orator and as a foe of the Nonpartisan League have reached Dr. Samuel Plantz, chairman of the People's Forum program committee since it was learned that Dr. Walker is to deliver an address at the forum meeting in Lawrence Memorial chapel next Sunday evening. Letters have come from Wisconsin cities and from places in North Dakota where Dr. Walker worked hard in the recent campaign to oust league officials. It should be understood that the forum meetings are nonpolitical. George F. Comings, lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, was asked to speak here last Sunday evening and present the league's side because the question of the Nonpartisan League is one of the liveliest before the people of this section. Mr. Comings did not handle the subject as a political matter but discussed the organization and its work among the farmers. Dr. Walker also will avoid politics in his address. He will discuss the league itself and not its politics.

One of the finest letters has come from Rhineland, Wis., where Dr. Walker spoke to an immense crowd some months ago. His address made so great an impression that he has been frequently sought to discuss the same subject at many large gatherings in the state.

Dr. Walker is described as having a very intimate knowledge of the Socialist and Nonpartisan movement and can tell his story in a manner which grips his audience and leaves no room for speculation.

COUNTY'S BUDGET FOR HIGHWAYS IS CALLED TOO HIGH

District Attorney's Interpretation Halts Budget Discussion

Declaring that the finance committee of the county board had overstepped its authority by providing for appropriations of $840,000 to run the county for the coming year, John Tracy, Appleton, on Wednesday asked to have the district attorney read the law which limits the amount the county can lawfully appropriate and it was found that the finance committee had made the annual budget too large.

The law as read by District Attorney Heinemann allows only 2 mills per cent of the county tax list to be used for highways. John Dierick of Kaukauna, chairman of the highway commission, and A. G. Brusewitz, highway commissioner, said they believed it was lawful to appropriate funds other than those

POSTOFFICE OPENS MAIL EARLY DRIVE

Uncle Sam Urges All of Us to Avoid Late Holiday Rush

Mail your Christmas packages early is the slogan of the postoffice department in the campaign to be launched Dec. 5. The week of Dec. 5 is designated as "Early Mailing week" when all avenues of publicity will be used to ask the people to send their Christmas parcels early to avoid the late rush and to insure better service.

During the last few years 1,000,000 people annually received Christmas packages and nearly all are delivered in the week previous to Christmas. It is the intention of the postal authorities to eliminate the rush of other years and to lessen the work of the clerks, merchants, railroad men and all others who deal in Christmas goods. Cooperation will equalize distribution and make better service.

It is permissible to put a label on the parcel post packages reading "Do not open till Christmas." This will enable shippers to forward parcels weeks in advance.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives.
Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:
Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

WANT SCHOOL FUND FOR NEW VILLAGE

Chairman Ryan Insists on Action by County Board in This Session

Because the reports of the finance committee read to the county board Wednesday afternoon did not include appropriations for the school fund of the town of Combined Locks, D. J.

Ryan, chairman of the board, jumped to ask the people to send their Christmas parcels early to avoid the late rush and to insure better service. Last year appropriations for the school of Combined Locks were included in those of Buchanan but the state superintendent was asked by officials of that town and by the county superintendent of schools to have the appropriations for Combined Locks made separately. Through oversight in the superintendent's office at Madison this was neglected. This matter was laid aside for further investigation by Mr. Ryan.

The finance committee recommendation for an appropriation of $600 for auditing books of the county was adopted.

Appropriations for funds to provide for a typewriter, file cases and other things needed by the superintendent of schools, county clerk, register of deeds and the county judge were made after the resolution to this effect was presented by Anton Jensen of Little Chute.

RENEWAL OF WAR IN IRELAND UNLIKELY

It begins to look as though the Irish conference might end in failure. Ulster does not seem to have yet reached the point where she is prepared to waive her prejudices against the Sinn Fein and her distrust of an all-Ireland council. From what has leaked out of the conference chamber, Ulster appears to be the stumbling block in the way of a settlement.

Whether Lloyd George is willing to accept the Sinn Fein view that Ireland can become a part of the British empire only as a free and independent state, implying the right to withdraw at any time it might see fit, is a question upon which there is no authoritative light. What Lloyd George and De Valera say to the public may differ materially from what they do and say behind closed doors. Whatever the facts, the situation is perhaps more critical for England than for Ireland. We do not see how there is any escape from the prospect that Ireland is to enjoy virtual independence. Nominally she will be under the sovereignty of Great Britain, that is so far as the claims of the throne and parliament are concerned, but in reality she will be her own mistress.

Public opinion in England is overwhelmingly opposed to coercive warfare against Ireland. The British press is almost a unit in demanding that in the event of failure at the conference there shall be no renewal of force against the Sinn Fein. It insists that the truce must be continued. If not at this time, sooner or later an understanding will be reached between Great Britain and Ireland and they will be drawn together into a mutually acceptable union. Their interests are so closely related as to be quite inseparable.

The world will rejoice in the great headway that Ireland is making toward emancipation from repressive and oppressive British rule. The last chapter of that unhappy history is about to be written, and whatever may be the results of the London conference events are clearly shaping themselves on the side of Irish aspirations for economic and political freedom. There is, however, in such freedom nothing inconsistent with membership in the British union, and eventually this is likely to be brought about through the consent and free will of Ireland herself.

CHINA NEEDS A PURPOSE

The Chinese nation is a race, living in a past civilization, with no strong vital purpose in modern affairs. As it glimpses the present, it scans the past; as it glances the future, in restraint it remembers the traditions and customs reaching back into unchronicled and forgotten ages. China, rather than Japan, is the problem of the Orient. The strength and audacity of Japan are the weakness and docility of China. Had China a definite national purpose, and if it undertook to substitute modern necessities for ancient indifference, the powerful and advanced nations of the West would not be forced to cooperate to protect it.

The unintelligible future may unite the antagonistic nations of the yellow race. But it cannot be denied that they probably will be united whether Japan is the dominant force, or whether China becomes modern. Looking ahead, it seems to be better that there should be at least two strong nations in the Orient than one. Saving the purposeless giant from the designs of Japan is the most perplexing problem of the arms conference. The special committee has adopted a set of principles specifying that the territorial and administrative integrity of China shall be respected; that the fullest opportunity shall be afforded to China to develop and maintain itself; that equal commercial opportunity for all nations shall be established and maintained in China; and that the great powers shall refrain from abridging the rights of citizens of friendly states.

It is significant that as the committee adopted these points for submission to the conference, the South China republic with headquarters at Canton offers to combine with the Peking government with headquarters at Peking, if the Peking government will abrogate the famous twenty-one Japanese demands, if Japan will restore Shantung to China, and if the Peking president will resign, so that an all-China president may be elected. That Japan is modifying its policy of aggression is evident. Yet, it seems to be undoubted that this alteration is due to public opinion throughout the world and the determined front of the great powers. The real, permanent solution of the oriental problems apparently lies in the formation of a stable government in China, the financing and protecting of this government and the training of the Chinese government and people along modern lines. China needs a purpose.

PRISON TERMS UNDER ANTI-TRUST LAW

Violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, with its consequent imposition on the public, would cease if prison sentences were more common. Sending four active members of the Tile, Grate and Mantel Manufacturers and Dealers association to jail in Essex county, New Jersey, is a precedent which if followed more, would command respect for one of the most important of federal laws.

Fines do not deter officers or representatives of large corporations or strong associations from flouting the anti-trust law. Officers and directors of some corporations and leaders in some combines believe their institutions are purely business concerns and have no moral obligations. If it is possible to disregard the law or break it without chance of punishment, or with the possibility of only a slight penalty, the moral phase is insignificant.

There can be no question, however, that a corporation has a soul, and that a board of directors has a moral responsibility, legal as well as ethical. Though conscience often may not seem to apply, the law does apply. Prison sentences are the most convincing means of proving that corporations and associations have souls, as well as of directing these souls into ways of righteousness.

SWEDISH NIGHTINGALE FORGOTTEN

But a relatively small number of the people paid much attention to the announcement of the death of Christine Nilsson, who was famous a generation ago as "The Second Swedish Nightingale." She inherited the popularity of the still greater favorite, Jenny Lind, and in the latter 80's she was recognized as the world's queen of song. She achieved triumph after triumph in every great city of Europe and the United States.

As she retired from opera in 1891, when forty-eight years old, present-day music lovers felt no live interest in her. To a great majority of them she was only one of the heroines of opera, as she had been for a long time. She was of the past. No photograph record preserves the sweet notes which charmed the society of her day.

None of the wonderful singing voices of twenty-five or thirty years ago is registered for the education and entertainment of posterity. There will, however, be a certain lustre to Nilsson's fame; imagination will form such a voice as a nightingale should have. Jean de Reszke and Adelina Patti, for the same reasons, probably will rank at least for some time as the greatest of all singers.

"World Reserve Bank"

Frank T. Vanderbilt's proposal for an international or "world reserve bank" contains possibilities which might well furnish the key necessary for the solution of the international financial collapse.

Roughly, Mr. Vanderbilt's plan is for a financial institution, patterned after our reserve bank system, to serve the various countries of the world. He proposes a capital of one billion dollars to be subscribed by the various governments and private banks, with control resting in the United States at least for the period of Europe's reconstruction. At first one-half and later three-quarters of all profits over eight per cent are to go to the participating governments, for which the banks located in the several countries are to be given extra territorial rights and are to be protected against discriminatory legislation.

Based on the banking scheme which has worked with such remarkable success in the United States, there seems to be no doubt that with proper safeguards it could work equally well in the several states of Europe. By furnishing a pool in which to mass credit, it would accomplish the main thing which Europe is now looking for; and, by using dollar notes as proposed, many of the difficulties of international trade resulting from the depreciated European currencies would be eliminated.

And finally, creating a charter from the League of Nations and tying up one country with another in strong financial bonds, such a bank might serve to aid in preventing wars.—BOSTON POST (Ind. Dem.)

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE MICROBIAL THEORY

In so far as it applies to the causation of those acute conditions of the respiratory tract known as "colds," the microbial theory has arrived at this status: All the authorities admit germs have something to do with these common conditions; some authorities insist that many of us carry various strains of bacteria which are capable of infecting us—that is, invading our tissues—only when our "resistance is lowered" by some indefinite cause. This theory strikes me as far-fetched. Although we know from repeated demonstration, that there are "carriers" of disease germs healthy enough themselves but capable of infecting others with typhoid fever, diphtheria, or in some instances perhaps, other diseases, there is not evidence to support this notion of carriers of acute respiratory infections nor any particular need for such a roundabout theory to explain the great prevalence of these conditions.

Dr. A. L. Bloomfield, of Baltimore, learns that none of the common bacteria found in the nose or throat have been shown to be the primary cause of acute respiratory diseases. The carrier theory would seem to fall for want of scientific support.

But another scientific investigation of the subject made by Dr. W. Kruse, who reported his observations in Die Erreger von Husten und Schnupfen, Munchen, med. Wchnschr., 61, 1547, 1914 (a snort and a couple of sneezes will get you over this ailment if you're off the language), proves that something akin to a virus present in the nose and throat of one who has an actual acute respiratory condition like coryza or sore throat will produce a similar condition when conveyed to the nose or throat of a healthy person. Kruse passed nasal secretion from persons with coryza and the like through unglazed porcelain filters which strain out visible bacteria, but permit ultramicroscopic organisms to pass thru and found the filtrate capable of producing a similar disease by inoculation.

Persons with diseased tonsils, decayed teeth and other septic or unclean conditions about the mouth, nose or throat, may become carriers and spread infection among their associates for a considerable period following an acute respiratory infection of their own.

But all of this pure science directed toward the "common cold" problem seems like a labor lost. Time for us to begin to search for innocent carriers after we shall have convicted the guilty distributors of such infections whose evil work is already too well known to all the world—persons coming down with, ill with, or just recovering from, colds, who persist in contact with them at work or at play. The carriers, if any, can wait until we have the general public educated, concerning the communicability and the danger of the so-called common cold.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

What Would You Do?

If you were an old woman, 60 years old, with a loose kidney way down in your abdomen, burning like a coal of fire, pulling down on your back until you were ready to holler, what would you do?—(Mrs. A. L. H.)

Answer—I'd holler—for the doctor. But I'm darned if I'd be an old woman at 60.

One of Those Hallowed Myths

Is there any truth in the saying that an expectant mother should not have a tooth extracted or filled, no matter how badly decayed it may be, or how much it may ache?—(Mrs. C. L. S.)

Answer—One of the important things for an expectant mother to do is visit her dentist and have her teeth kept in good condition, by whatever surgical treatment the dentist may deem necessary. There is danger in neglecting this duty; none whatever in attending to it.

The Adhesion Business

I am a girl 17 years old. Four years ago I was operated on for appendicitis. About two years ago I began having pains in my stomach after eating. The doctor had X-ray negatives made, and said I should be operated on again for adhesions. I had the second operation in August, and now I am not feeling any better at all. Please tell me what I can do to overcome the pains.—(A. M. M.)

Answer—Without knowledge of the cause of your pains, I am unable to advise you. Operations undertaken solely to relieve what the doctor assures to be adhesions seldom prove happy, and aside from obstruction of the bowel, a diagnosis of "adhesions," with or without X-ray support, is one which would never suffice to make me submit to operation, and I am personally rather fond of being operated on.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

Cutting Their Own Pay

A shop council, representing the employees of Armour and Company, meeting with officials representing the management, has decided that the company cannot keep up its present wage scale. Accordingly, the workers' agents determined the amount of a reasonable reduction, and have now gone before their fellow-workers to secure the acceptance of the decreased rate. Barring the possibility of failure on the part of the shop council, the management is to have the cutting of their own wages by the employees of the company as a notable victory in the achievement of industrial peace.

"The voluntary acceptance of a wage reduction," comments the NEW YORK TIMES (Ind. Dem.) "is something unheard of before on so large a scale, and is sure on any scale," and commends the procedure as a "sound, sober method of wage adjustment, resting on economic good sense." The CHICAGO NEWS (Ind.) thinks the action of the "packing employees affords a striking object lesson in the moral and economic benefits of open dealing, conciliation, accommodation and industrial peace with," while the NEW YORK HERALD (Ind.) states that these workers "in truth, have more economic sense than Congress has. They are better industrial reconstructionists than the United States Railroad Labor Board is," and they "must have a fine opinion of a national Congress which cannot see what they see" and "look for a finish to the United States Railroad Labor Board which does not do what they do." That the workers did a "surprising but logical thing" is the opinion of the ROCHESTER DEMOCRAT AND CHRONICLE (Rep.) "they sent a committee to inform the officials of the company that they had its interests at heart; that they appreciated their position of partnership in the company's affairs; and that they were ready to put their shoulders to the wheel to bring back prosperity." "Tel. come to think of it," says the LYNCHBURG NEWS (Dem.), "why should there be anything especially startling in the methods employed and the results thus achieved? The workers' principle which functions in the settlement, eminently accord with wise and prudent business statesmanship." The UTAICA OBSERVER (Dem.) goes further in its demands for the application of this method of settlement in demanding that "so, too, the public should be dealt with in its relations with public utilities, the street railways, cannot pay their expenses and some return on legitimate investment (not wasted stock), there ought to be some way of letting the public know the exact facts, with statements as to salaries of managers, officials, etc." And if it were found that the road was actually losing money, there would never be a murmur against increased fares.

A tendency to reserve judgment is shown by a number of papers "until it appears," as the BALTIMORE NEWS (Ind.) phrases it, "that the plan congresses really command the confidence of the workers," adding that "if there can be a true industrial democracy in the less fully organized industries, like the packing industry, a great deal of unrest for which the unions have been responsible will be eliminated," for "under the Armour system there is no place for the unions as such; the men being considered only in their capacity as workers in the industry." The CHICAGO POST (Ind.) thinks, however, that their "shop representation is still very imperfect affair, depending for its efficacy on the good faith of the men at the top," and, while disclaiming any intention of perpetrating a pun, believes that "the guarantee of a square deal to the workers are now armor-plated. Employee representatives are not guaranteed against loss of their jobs during tenure of office; they are not allowed time off from their trades to study and consult about the problems of their constituents; foremen and others who have risen by marked ability . . . are ineligible to election." "The means utilized by the packing companies to renege their wage schedules are both better and worse than the methods formerly used to attain the same ends," is the opinion of the NEW YORK GLOBE (Ind.). "Works committees and industrial councils such as the packers have been lately fostering are in tragically wholesome devices so long as they are properly used," but "the packers would have been in a stronger position with reference both to their employees and to public opinion if they had submitted this case to an arbitrator." Such is the method the federal government prescribed.

"Such a step forward, if the post-union can be held, marks a milestone in the relations of capital and labor," sums up the NEWARK NEWS (Ind.), and in union with the WASHINGTON POST (Ind.), which realizes that the "real test will come when it is discovered whether the majority of such employees will accept the reductions decided upon by their committees, for this is a novelty in American industry."

The ST. JOSEPH NEWS PRESS (Ind.) sees in the wage cut no "immediate relief to the consumer," and the BANGOR COMMERCIAL (Ind.) believes that "the public belief in large profits in the packing business has been, or its today ill-founded, for if such exist the committees representing the employees would not be likely to move for wage reduction." "When business improves sufficiently the system in self-defense should raise wages and seal the loyalty of the workers," concludes the CHICAGO TRIBUNE (Ind. Rep.), since "to remain effective it must maintain justice."

Strange Foods

Offering what might be called a gastronomic guide to Europe, a writer in the LONDON MAIL, gives some interesting information concerning the "piece de resistance" of the nations of the Continent through which he has just passed. The writer says: "There is no need to go to Vienna to taste bread in perfection; one may find that at Sarajevo, either the good brown loaf, crisp without and succulent within, whereby the major pains of hunger are assuaged, or the white twist curled after the manner of Paris, or, best of all, the rye roll and croissant, cunningly flavored with cinnamon and caraway, which would tempt the most delicate palate."

"There is a little inn on the Bosnian-Serbian frontier, at Vardishte, where you should linger if but to taste the 'Kaigan', scrambled eggs only, but eggs scrambled in Kaimak, a cheese of Devonshire cream and goat's milk, instead of butter—and to see the way in which they grill their fresh-caught blue mountain trout on wooden skewers in a brushwood fire."

"If you are in Prague and go to the German Opera House, which still runs flourishingly alongside the Czech national Opera, it is proper to eat sandwiches in your box or in the foyer between the acts."

"And the Prague sandwiches are no ordinary affairs of meagre slices of bread and butter with a mild portion of ham between. First comes your bread, a noble slice and portly; on that is spread a selection of cooked meats—ham, salami, and sausage, followed by a layer of sliced cold cuts that comes golden and white of hard-boiled eggs, and crowning the whole superstructure, a screaming of savory sauce. Truly the Czechs are a great people!"

"If you go eastwards in Rumania you will taste many delightful things in that land of good cooking, but none better than roast kid wrapped in wine leaves and cooked in red wine."

"And in Bessarabia, if you go south to the Danube fisheries where they catch the great sturgeon, you may eat the finest caviare in the world at Vilcov—the tiny Volcov, of the Danube, where the grave Lipovene fishermen live and prepare the roe of the sturgeon, both fresh and salt."

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This office applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What is the international status of Plume? F. B. L.

A. The state department says Plume is a free city and an independent nation, although it has not been recognized as such by the American government.

Q. Tell me when the house fly came into existence? R. C.

A. The common housefly has been known to man as far back as we have any record, and fossil flies have been found in rocks of prehistoric times.

Q. What are the morning and evening stars? V. T. L.

A. The morning stars at present are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune. The evening star is Uranus, but it crosses the meridian so early in the evening that it is scarcely visible to the naked eye.

Q. Under the Washington agreement between the coal operators and miners, do the non-union fields have a right to cut wages before March 31, 1922?

A. The so-called Washington agreement is not involved in this question, as that agreement was to run until the end of the war, or until March 31, 1920. The agreement now in effect is that established under the award of the Bituminous Coal commission following the strike of November, 1919, and it runs until March 31, 1922. The question of its application to non-union fields is a matter of controversy. The West Virginia non-union operators have generally held that the award of the commission and the subsequent agreement did not apply to them, and have acted on the assumption. The miners generally have contended that the award and agreement should govern non-union as well as union fields.

Q. How many of the states have satisfactory laws for the registration of deaths? F. F. S.

A. In 24 states there are laws which are regarded as satisfactory for death registration, since at least 90 per cent of all deaths are registered. In 11 states there are laws under trial, which will probably be found satisfactory, while in South Dakota, Nevada and Arizona, the laws do not secure good death registration.

Q. When did the American eagle first appear on our money? W. E. T.

A. The design of the eagle was authorized for use on gold and silver coins of the United States by the act of April 2, 1792, during George Washington's administration.

Q. Can an ostrich run as fast as a horse? G. A. E.

A. At full speed an ostrich is said to make 60 miles an hour and for a limited time can outrun a horse. Ostriches can be run down by men on horseback, because the ostrich runs in more or less of a circle and the horseman can take advantage of the fact.

Evans' Triple Phosphate Puts Good Solid Red-Blooded Healthy Flesh on Your Bones

And Makes You Feel 100% Better At Same Time

What difference does it make to you how EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts good, solid, red-blooded, healthy flesh on your bones as long as it does it and makes you feel 100% better at the same time?

Evans' Triple Phosphates is something new and something that really does what is claimed for it. Start to take it today with each meal, and in four days you'll know that you are growing more robust and feel stronger and more active. Continue with the treatment faithfully for 10 days more and note with satisfaction that your nerves are growing more responsive; that your ambition does not lag, but is cheerfully obedient to your wishes, that a touch of color is appearing in your cheeks and that your occupation ceases to become a task and is a pleasure. Notice that never before in your whole life have you enjoyed living as you do today. Weigh yourself at the end of one month and let the scales tell the story.

Union Pharmacy, D. W. Evans, manager has agreed to supply thin, run-down, under-developed persons with the understanding that if one month's treatment doesn't give most gratifying results your money is waiting for you. But don't take it even though it accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, unless you really want to put on flesh and gain weight.

HIGH SCHOOL IN DEBATING LEAGUE

Students Accept Invitation of College—Fine Display of Sea Shells

Kaukauna—Kaukauna high school will accept the invitation of Lawrence college to enter the Wisconsin Inter-scholastic Debating league following a vote of the student body of the high school Wednesday afternoon. The daily better spirit demonstration. The question was introduced by Reuben Goese, president of the public speaking class, and after a short discussion in which some of the students opposed the plan, a vote was taken. About half the students are willing to try out for places on a debating team.

The third day of better spirit week ended with a one act play entitled "Better Spirit at Benton." The play was written by Reuben Goese and Mark Griffith, who also took the roles of two high school boys. Lorrain Hansen and Lorraine Thelen were two Benton high school girls.

PARTY FOR SISTER
Mrs. E. LaBorde entertained Tuesday evening at her home in honor of her sister, Miss Anna Hentz of Milwaukee, who is visiting here. The evening was spent with games and social enjoyment. Ten guests were present.

NEED RECREATION HALL
The democratic attitude taken by the Fox club in opening up its basketball practice nights to all young men of the city revealed another great need in this city when the first practice was held Tuesday evening in the auditorium—the need of a place where the young people of the community can gather without expense for an evening of recreation.

About a dozen candidates turned out the first evening. Most of the time was spent in "limbering up" for the season. Practice will be held at least once a week. No date for the first game has been set.

KINSMAN EXPLAINS BANKS TO WOMEN

A large group of women attended the regular meeting of the civics department of Appleton Women's club at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Vocational school when Dr. D. O. Kinsman spoke on the methods of banking and of getting the most intelligent service from the bank. The topic was of intense interest to most of the women who said that they had many of their problems settled by Dr. Kinsman's address.

Miss Ethel Carter, head of the mathematics department of the high school, gave a ten minute outline of the new way in which mathematics is being brought to the students of Appleton high school. The next meeting of the department will be on the police department, its duties and functions.

MANY CHANGES IN NEW DIRECTORIES

New directories of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. were distributed to subscribers on Thursday. The books are new in design to Appleton. Two columns of names and numbers are printed on each page, making possible a saving in paper and also makes it easier to find numbers. An interesting department is a pink classified section which classifies every industry in Appleton under proper title and gives the telephone number and street address.

Waverly Winter Garden Entertainment and Dancing Every Night

EXTEND TIME ON INCOME RETURNS

Wisconsin corporations will benefit by a recent treasury decision which extends the time from Nov. 24 to Jan. 15 for the filing of amended tax returns on a basis of inflated valuation, P. A. Napieciński, internal revenue deputy collector, who is stationed in the city hall, announces.

The new ruling will allow corporations plenty of time to make out their amended returns and to pay the additional tax money, Mr. Napieciński said. No penalty for delinquency will be collected until after Jan. 15.

By a decision issued two months ago, the treasury department held that inflated values could not be used in determining income tax returns, and the ruling necessitated filing of new returns by a large percentage of taxpaying corporations throughout the country.

George S. Cook of Unity, was in Appleton visiting with friends Wednesday.

ty, state road and bridge committee to submit its report to the county board the supervisors took a recess until 1:30 in the afternoon.

Appropriations for highway construction the coming season exceed the limit by $70,000 according to Fred V. Heinemann, district attorney, and the committee spent the entire morning in an effort to bring them within the law.

One of the projects upon which it is understood the committee is hanging fire in the Seymour-Augellen road, which carried an appropriation of $50,000. Some of the members it was said, favored dispensing with all appropriations except those needed to cover federal and state aid funds.

As members are divided on appropriations for highway purposes a lively session is anticipated when the report is submitted. After its adoption by the board the amount is included in the report of the finance committee.

The board was called to order at 11:20 and was followed by roll call and the reading of the minutes of the day previous. Supervisor Tracy suggested the board give the finance committee orders to follow the instructions of the district attorney and Chairman Ryan said that was the reason for taking a recess, to give the county, state road and bridge committee time to eliminate certain items that would bring the budget within the law.

humorist, John Kendrick Bangs, who has been traveling with lyceum and chautauque courses for the last ten years will give a varied program Monday night, Dec. 5 in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Mr. Bangs has a world wide reputation as a keen man, a keen humorist and a keen observer. The lecturer was in France during the war and returned again in 1919 to travel in all parts of Europe including Germany and the Central Powers.

Those who have heard him say that besides being witty and full of fun, the speaker carries with his program something of a deeper and finer nature than most humorous programs which is inspiring to his audiences. In the last 10 years, he has spoken to more than 1000 audiences in 46 states in the Union. Of these many were return engagements.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

Love And Hate Akin

By Winona Wilcox

The girl who indulges in "petting parties" never can know what the best love is like but perhaps she comes closer to it than the girl who dreams of love but "just hates" all the men she knows because they do not measure up to her dream heroes. Far-reaching, indeed, are the ills resulting from the latter phobia. For example:

"I was to have been married in the spring," writes a desolated maiden. "The man I was engaged to asked

Thus she became unable to make a frank exhibition of tenderness when she was engaged.

The instance to love and the joy in being loved is normal in man and woman. When a woman says that she hates men, her nature has been perverted by some tragic experience.

The spinster sisters who hated men may have been devoted to their father. They may have taken him as the pattern of a perfect lover, they may never have found a man who could match up to him and thus dis-be released; he said I was too cold, too unsympathetic.

My half-sisters, years older than I, educated men. They both hate men. They think all men are conceited and deceitful. They called me silly because I let the man I was to marry put his arms around me.

The fact is that I am extremely sensitive by nature, very affectionate and sympathetic, but I have been raised to conceal my feelings from men.

"The ideas of my sisters ruled me appointed, they declare all modern men to be conceited and deceitful. Or they may have been of that unfortunate type known as "mother's girl." This type is so devoted to the mother that the thought of leaving her for a home and a husband is unendurable. Many a fine girl would have been happily married except for her subjection to a strong-willed mother.

The hate of a man is closely akin to the love of a man. And so it is possible that the spinster sisters were and caused me to act like a perfect stick when I was engaged. Therefore I have lost my love forever.

"My sisters say it is just as well, but my heart is broken.

"I actually envy the painted, chattering girl in a short skirt who knows what she wants in a mate and goes after it quite frankly."

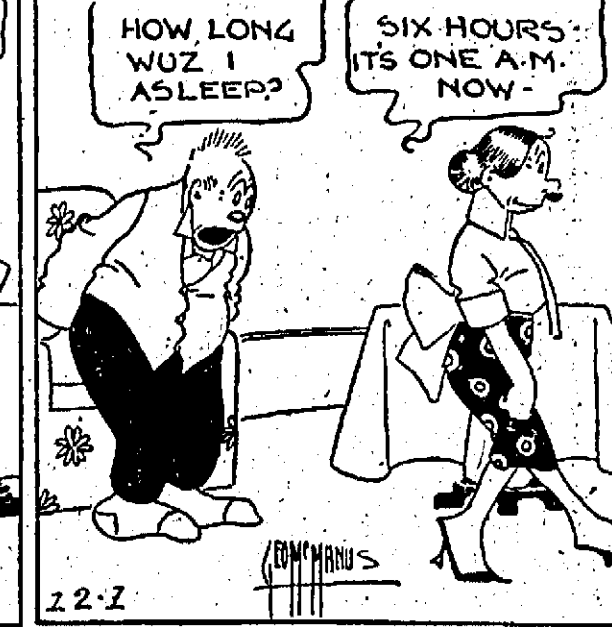

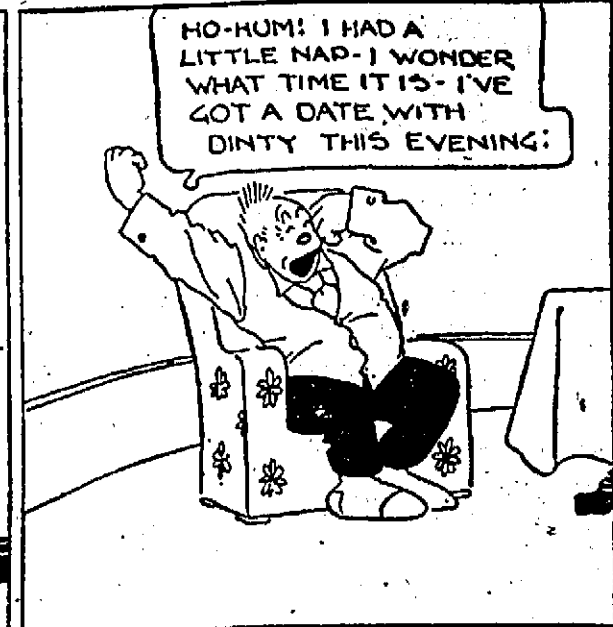

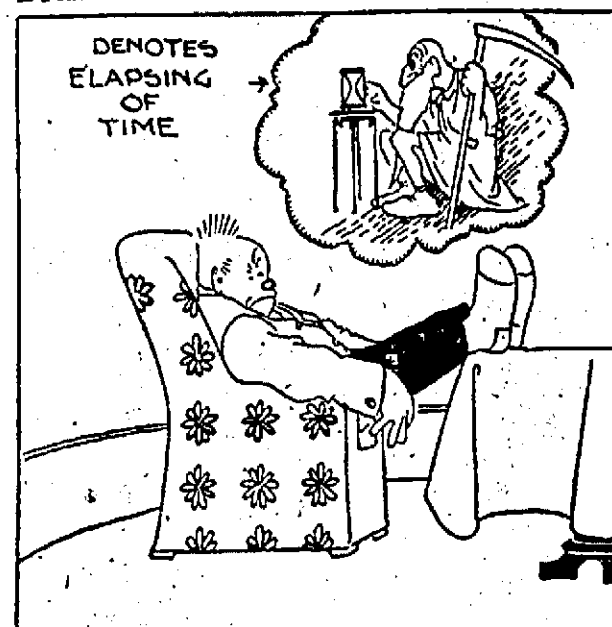

Psychology explains why this poor child's love affair came to its sad finale. The story begins with her guardians, the spinster sisters. They hated men. Being puritanical, doubtless they taught the girl, while she was still a child, to be ashamed of her need to be loved and caressed.

jealous, quite unconsciously, of the happiness of the engaged girl and therefore they ridiculed the man and called the affair "silly."

Another urge is apparent in this case. Since the spinsters had repressed, or dwarfed their instinct to love, they became over-developed on the side of the "will-to-power." They took vast pleasure in shaping the younger woman's life for her.

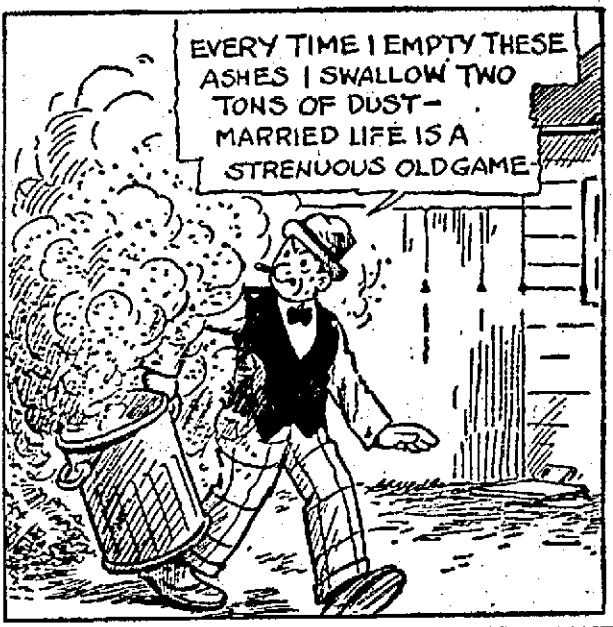

Thus a naturally warm-hearted girl learned to disguise her feeling for the man she loved and became a sacrifice to the prudery and the unfortunate "complex" of her older sisters.

Adventures of the Twins

Oliver Roberts Barton

"Keep moving! Keep moving!" shouted Cap'n Pennywinkle, waving his stick at the big fishes and sea-creatures that passed.

Isn't it a good thing, my dears, that there is someone to see to it that traffic in the sea never stops. Have you ever wondered why it is that the fishes never stop, but swim hither and thither, this way and that, back and forth, never stopping at all? Well, now you know, that it is because somewhere, down underneath the waves, Cap'n Pennywinkle is shouting at the top of his lungs,

"Move on everybody! Keep moving! And everybody minds him."

When Nancy and Nick returned from Lippy Lobster's house to deliver Lippy's message to the fairy policeman, that is what he was doing, trying his best to keep the cross-roads clear. But a big brown object lying flat in the bottom of the sea, refused to move at all.

Cap'n Pennywinkle pranced around the brown object on his sea-horse, Curly, and called out as loudly as he could, "Keep moving, please! You are not allowed to stop here! Keep moving!"

But the object didn't please. It settled itself down as firmly in the sandy bottom as the pyramids of Egypt.

"What is it?" asked Nancy. "Why doesn't it move?"

"It's Tubby Terrapin," said Pennywinkle with a grim nod. "He does what he pleases, where he pleases, and when he pleases, and he's got a disposition like a stalled engine. A mule isn't in it. Also he's just as hard to start as a stalled engine, for when he settles, he settles for good and dynamite itself couldn't move him."

The Twins surveyed Mr. Terrapin thoughtfully.

"We might pull him out of the way if we all help," suggested Nick.

Cap'n Pennywinkle lifted his brows. "We can't for there's nothing to take hold of!" he declared.

CONDITION OF E. B. RALPH IS CRITICAL

Ribs Broken, Liver and Lungs Injured—Tried to Avoid Another Car

Reports from St. Elizabeth hospital Thursday noon indicate that the condition of E. B. Ralph, Rankin-st., who was struck by an automobile on the Menasha-rd., Wednesday noon, is extremely serious. Several of his ribs are broken and his lungs and liver are injured. Physicians worked with him for several hours Wednesday afternoon.

According to information received by the police, Mr. Ralph was struck by an automobile driven by Peter W. Nieling, Little Chute, as he was walking along the Menasha-rd., about two miles from Appleton. Mr. Ralph attempted to dodge a car coming from the opposite direction and stepped in front of the Nieling machine. The car passed over his body.

Left Old Address With one exception all the 1,436 packages received for shipment Wednesday were found to be properly tied and wrapped. This one package had marks of an old address on it, making it difficult for conveyors to read the name of the new address.

Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk." Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina.

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-headed rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing powers as Peterson's Ointment, to call at all druggists for 35 cents a large box."

Read this letter, written February 14, 1918, by Mrs. Albert Southcott, of Medina, N. Y. It seems like a miracle, but it is true, every word of it. I know it because I get similar letters almost every day from people who have used my ointment for old sores, eczema and piles.

Is it any wonder I am happy? Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sirs—

"I was an untold sufferer from an old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 1 1/2 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."

"You may use this to recommend your ointment if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y.

DEFENDANTS ON STAND IN TRIAL OF "RAID CASE"

Ballet and O'Connor Describe Occurrences Near Black Home

Stephen Ballet and Dr. A. E. Rector, two of the defendants in the Black-Rector case now on trial in circuit court, testified as adverse witnesses Wednesday afternoon. It was their first appearance on the witness stand in any of the suits instituted against those charged with participating in the alleged night raid of the final liberty loan drive, and the announcement of their names at that time came as a surprise to the several hundred spectators.

Mr. Ballet, who was the first to testify, was questioned by Attorney Walter Corrigan as to the places visited on the night of Oct. 19, 1918. The examination had barely started when there was an interruption of testimony caused by the argument of a motion on the question of intent which was precipitated by Attorney Corrigan when he inquired of the witness if Mr. Jackels, who had been designated as a prisoner earlier in the trial, was in one of the automobiles that stopped at the Black residence.

NEAR BLACK HOME

The witness said the car in which he was riding that night stopped on Wisconsin ave. in Kaukauna. In the vicinity of the Black residence, he did not go into the Black residence, but remained within 50 feet of the car walking up and down the street. Among those with him were Dr. O'Connor, his brother John, F. M. Charlesworth and Charles Stribley of Kaukauna and several others whose names he could not recall.

Dr. O'Connor drove the car in which the witness was a passenger. Mr. Ballet said Dr. Rector visited the Black residence. Among the automobile drivers he recalled Albert West and Joseph Jansen. He was asked if Harry Donahue and Benjamin Pugh also drove cars but said he was not acquainted with them at that time.

As near as the witness could recall about half a dozen men remained with the automobiles and several walked toward the Black residence. He could not state the number as he arrived after Dr. Rector had gone in. The O'Connor car was one of the last to reach the scene.

HOUSES CLOSE TOGETHER

Mr. Ballet said F. M. Charlesworth had a list of the places to be visited but he did not recall the car in which he was riding stopped in the vicinity of the Jackels home and as he recalled the two residences were close together and the men went back and forth. After visiting Black's place the party drove to several other residences and did not arrive home until 1:30 the next morning.

According to the testimony of Dr. Rector there were three lists of homes to be visited that night, but he did not have possession of them and was unable to say whether they were all visited. His committee stopped at Jackels' residence and from there he drove by automobile to Black's residence, parking on Wisconsin ave.

Upon reaching the Black residence the witness said he went in, but did not see Stephen Ballet until he came out and found him waiting for him on Wisconsin ave. He did not see Dr. O'Connor.

Dr. Rector said there were others in the crowd that visited Black's residence, but that they did not belong to his party. He was unable to tell how many remained with the automobiles outside.

Merritt Black, Jr., was recalled at the opening of the afternoon session and was followed by his sister, Ida Black, who corroborated the story told by other members of the family as to the visit paid her father on the night of Oct. 19, 1918. Among the other witnesses called were Mr. and Mrs. John Nitschka, neighbors.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness, cough, phlegm, hoarseness, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are cured by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

No Easy Matter To Edit Greatest College Weekly

Getting out The Lawrentian, Appleton's Greatest College Weekly, with practically the same equipment with which the old monthly paper was gotten out is not as easy as it would seem, according to those who manage the paper. The equipment of the Lawrentian room, which should really be a laboratory for the journalism department, consists of a few desks, three or four typewriters and one or two files for back numbers of the paper.

According to William Bell Lindsay, head of the journalism department, the Lawrentian office should be a model newspaper office in which the students could learn the essentials of the production of a newspaper, where they could work with type themselves and learn first hand many of the processes by which a professional paper is able to have up to the minute news.

Should Lawrence college work out a newspaper library comparable to those used by all newspapers of note, I think it would be one of the very few colleges to have one."

If the plans of the department could be carried out, one afternoon each week would be required of all journalism students in which to get better acquainted with the routine of the office aside from the mere preparation of articles. The college paper then could be greatly improved because of the broader knowledge of its workers.

A new feature has been added to the freshman citizenship class of the high school, this year. Subjects such as "The City Beautiful," "Health," "Prevention of Diseases," "Carelessness," "Safety First," have been covered thus far.

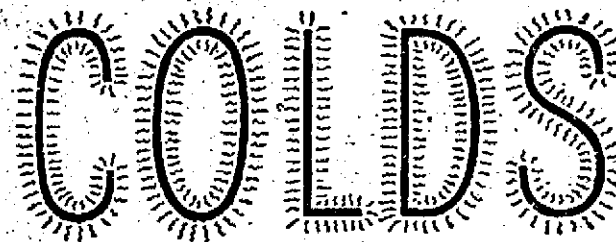

SHERIFF RETURNS FEES TO COUNTY

Schwartz Said He Believed He Had Right to Charge for His Services

Sheriff P. G. Schwartz in a letter to the county board presented Wednesday afternoon said that all bills of indebtedness which he submitted to the committee on sheriff accounts were offered in good faith. Attached to his letter was a check for $54.60 the amount collected and later found to be in excess of dues and expenses allowed him.

In his communication the sheriff said all money collected by him was done with the belief he was given authority to collect all expenses incurred by him while discharging the duties of his office.

John Schwammer of Black Creek offered a resolution to allow all present claims of the sheriff and to permit him to draw from the county expenses for maintaining prisoners in the jail and for his work in performing his duties outside the county, in addition to his salary.

BELOIT ENTERING STRONG TEAM IN BASKETBALL RACE

Coach Tommy Mills Says He Has the Material for World Beater

Basketball practice at Lawrence college is soon to get underway in order to have the men in condition for a few games before the Christmas holidays. No games preliminary to the conference race have been scheduled thus far but Coach McChesney now is arranging for a few contests. The conference season will open Jan. 16 with Ripon as the first opponent.

Beloit college, after a fairly successful football year, is after the Little Five basketball title. More than 30 men, all of them with considerable basketball experience, reported for the first practice.

Much is expected of Winkewerder, a Berlin boy, and a junior. He is almost sure of one of the forward positions. Laffin, Wiegert, Lloyd and Comstock, the latter quarterback on this year's football team, also are prominent candidates for berths on the team.

Coach Tommy Mills says he has the material to make one of the best teams in the midwest. Beloit is scheduled to meet the University of Wisconsin in a practice game before the holidays.

BUSHEY BASKETEERS WALLOP FORESTERS

Bushey Business college basketball team showed wonderful form Wednesday night when it trounced the Catholic Order of Foresters team 40 to 8, in Bushey gymnasium. The Bushey team played the best ball of the year, running rings around the more inexperienced Forester boys.

All of the Bushey players are attending school. The team is being drilled by Gerald Bushey who says it is one of the strongest squads at the school in years. Among his men are Kammerer and Kunde, guards, Kusow and Rundhammer, forwards, and Anderson, center.

The next game probably will be played at Hilbert, Dec. 13.

Three of the Forester players were out of the game because of injuries, greatly weakening the squad.

FRED BUSHEY WILL BRING TEAM HERE

Fred Bushey, long tutor of basketball teams at Bushey Business college, will bring his Uncle Sam Tractor team of Menasha here for games during the winter. He is lining up battles with the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Interlakes. It is probable that other local teams also will be signed for games.

Bushey will take his team to Black Creek for a game Thursday evening. Zapp, formerly of Bushey Business college, and Gruenwald, former Marinette star, are playing with Black Creek, insuring a good game.

Bushey's team is made up of several old-time Menasha stars, one of the strongest in the valleys. It gave the Matthews team of Sheboygan a hard battle a few nights ago.

NOTRE DAME IS CHOICE FOR TITLE ON COAST

Los Angeles—Notre Dame university appeared on Monday to be the only remaining possibility to represent the east at the annual east vs. west football game played at Pasadena on New Year's day under the auspices of the Tournament of Roses association. Official word was lacking that Cornell, which was invited, could not accept, but the tournament of roses officials said they had heard indirectly that this was the case.

The tournament officials said that no formal invitation had been sent to Notre Dame and were not ready on Monday to say one would be.

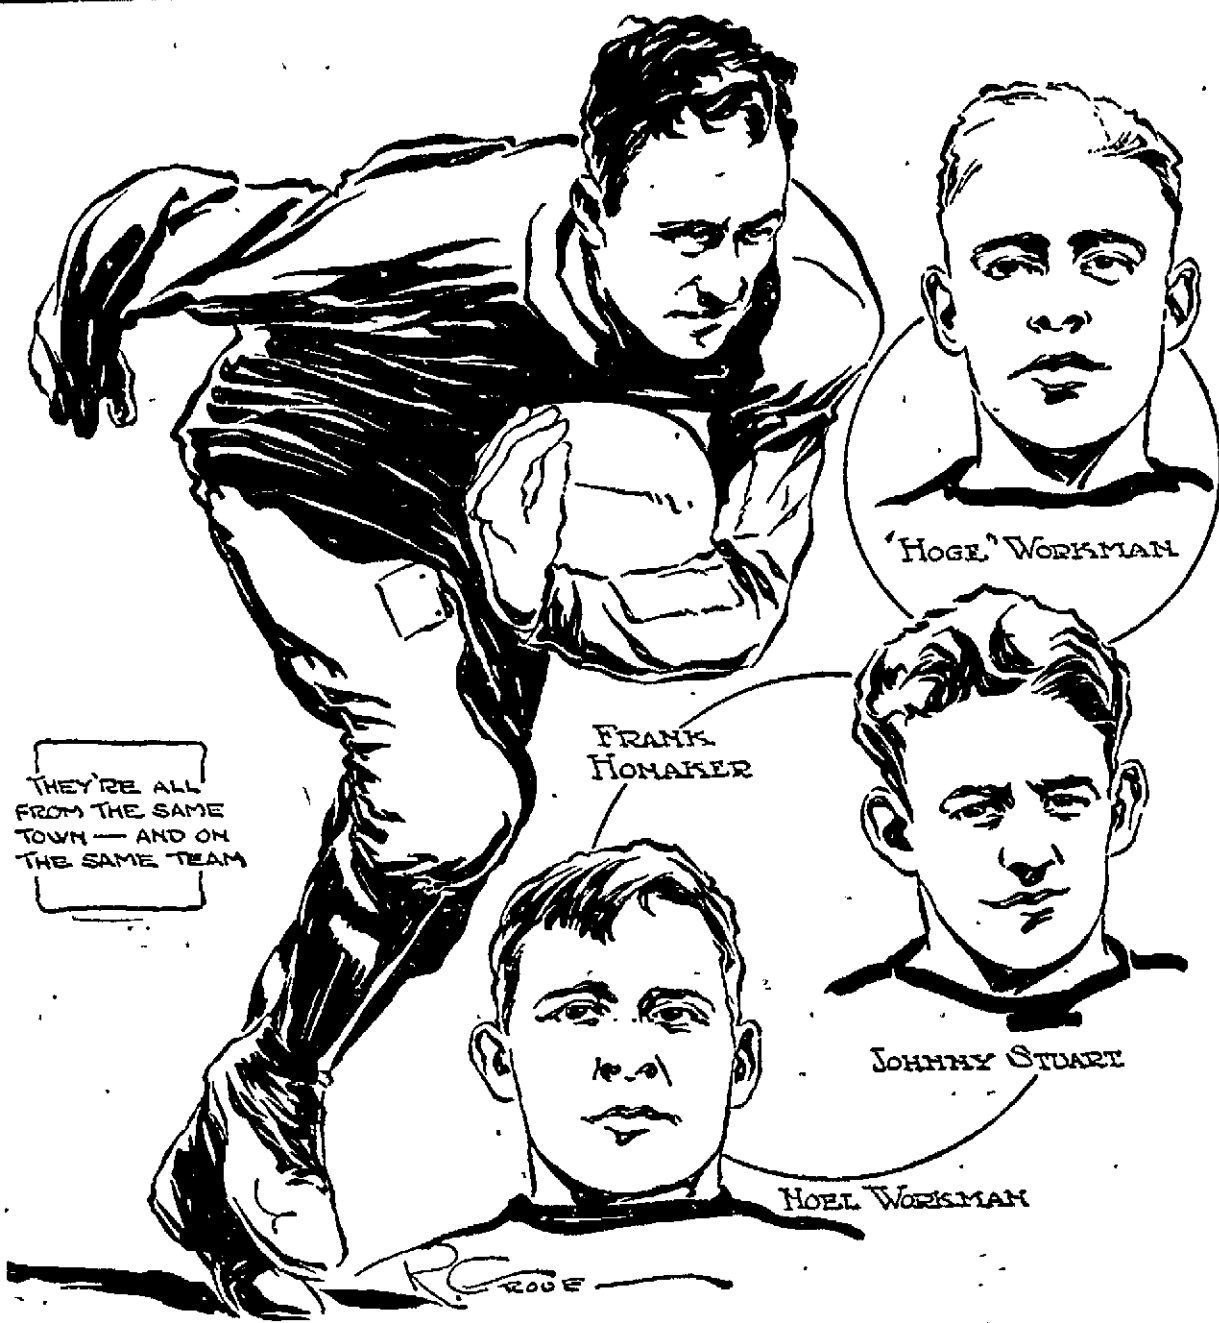

Sale of tickets for the game began on Monday.

MENASHA AND ARCADE PIN MEN BOWL FOR $100

With $100 side bet as an incentive, the Arcade bowling team of Appleton, and the Pierce Brothers team of Menasha will go after the wood at Menasha Friday evening in the first of a series of matches to determine the better team. Three games will be rolled in Menasha Friday night and three more are to be played in Appleton Dec. 5.

Rivalry between the teams is quite intense, it is said. It is believed a number of local bowling fans will accompany the squad to Menasha Friday night.

Four State Stars From Same Town

THEY'RE ALL FROM THE SAME TOWN—AND ON THE SAME TEAM

By Billy Evans
At Ohio State University, Huntington spells football.

Such a statement is a trifle at variance with the usually accepted spelling.

Let me explain. At Ohio State University there are more than 7,000 students. These students come from all over the country to get the liberal advantages of a college education.

In these modern days, football is one of the leading advantages offered by our very best universities. Several hundred candidates came out for the varsity football team at Ohio State University in the fall. Only eleven men can play regularly on a football team. That is the big reason why winning a position on the varsity team means so much.

Four of the candidates for the Ohio State team were Johnny Stewart, Hogg and Noel Workman and Frank Honaker. Last year Hogg Workman was the star of the Ohio State team.

He would have been just as great this year. However, because of certain restrictions as to his studies, he was unable to play. The other three candidates were the leading stars on State's great team. That is why Huntington spells football at Ohio State.

What is even more interesting, is the fact that only four students from Huntington, W. Va., are enrolled at Ohio State. It is a most unusual thing that all of them should develop into football stars, the idols of the student body.

If they came from California and met with such unusual success, the natives out there would say it was the "climate." The Huntington folks simply say, "maybe the credit is due to the old hills of West Virginia."

The most important thing to the student body at Ohio State is the fact there are two more Workman boys, and both intend coming to State.

Sport Views And News

Gilroy of touchdown fame will captain the Tigers in 1922 on the gridiron. This classy Tiger back who pulled Princeton out of the fire in the Harvard game has been named to succeed Stanley Keck. Down in New Jersey, the Orange and Black undergraduates call Gilroy the "Sam White" of today. The new leader has a place in the hall of glory along with Poe, Roper, and many other Tiger-ton grid heroes.

Penn State has pitched camp in Seattle in preparation for the game with the University of Washington on Saturday. Hugh Bezek's team, rated about the best in the East, will be an odds on favorite in the contest, and if the long trip across the country didn't upset the squad, Father Penn's footballers should beat the husky Westerners by a good sized score.

Zbyzsko and Strangler Lewis renewed their wrestling feud in Gotham and the Strangler got trimmed again. Supposedly in about three weeks, the pair will have it again in some other city. The wrestling trust sure is making hay while the sun shines these days.

BASING BOOMED TO LEAD LAWRENCE FOOTBALL TEAM

Lawrence college football players will elect a new captain to succeed William Smith within the next few days. According to information received on the campus, there is considerable sentiment for Myrtle Basing as the leader of next year's team.

Basing is said, has earned the honor by his ability as a player and is well liked by his teammates. There is a possibility that McGlynn, tackle on this year's team, also will be nominated for the position.

RICHARDS AND JONES SMOKE PIPE OF PEACE

Madison—Coach John J. Richards of the University of Wisconsin football team and T. E. Jones, athletic director at that institution, have patched up their differences and as a result the threatened disruption of the athletic department has been averted. It was officially announced Wednesday. Rumors that Richards would resign as a result of friction with Jones have been common.

INTERCLASS TOURNEY AT COLLEGE NEXT WEEK

The annual interclass basketball tournament of Lawrence college has been arranged for Dec. 9 in Alexander gymnasium. Teams to represent each class in the college are working hard in preparation for this tournament which is one of the most popular of interclass contests during the year. Each class works up spirit for its team and members of the different classes attend the games. The teams usually line up with the freshmen playing the seniors, the juniors playing the sophomores and in the final games winners playing winners.

May Trade Joe Dugan

Connie Mack is said to be seriously contemplating a deal that will take Third baseman Joe Dugan to new fields. Dugan is unquestionably the best looking third baseman in the American League. He is sour on Philadelphia, however, and jumped the team three times last year. Chick Galloway, who played short for the Athletics last year, looked so good in the fall trial he had at third that Mack is about convinced he can trade Dugan to advantage.

WEAVER ACCEPTS HILL'S TERMS FOR TITLE BOUT HERE

Men Will Go on Mat Dec. 7 on Winner Take All Basis—Wrestles Tonight

Buck Weaver has a real peeve against George Hill whom he will wrestle here Dec. 7. Buck's peeve is based on Hill's terms for the match. Fans will remember that when Weaver issued his challenge he indicated he would be willing to allow Hill to name the terms. Hill as reputed champion for Wisconsin, said he would be willing to go on the mat with the understanding the winner of the match take all the proceeds.

That kind of a proposition apparently was a stunner to Weaver and for several days Hill's letter went unanswered. Yesterday, however, Weaver, sent in a sarcastic reply in which he accepted the local man's terms and made a few remarks about Hill's wrestling ability and the men he has met that didn't set very well. The match here next Wednesday night isn't going to be a love match, that is assured.

Hill is to wrestle Carl Van Wuden, the "Flying Dutchman," in a handicap match in Oshkosh tonight. He has agreed to throw Van Wuden twice within an hour.

Oshkosh promoters have matched Hill and Martinson to a finish match the night of Dec. 21 in Oshkosh. Hill wants to wrestle the big Dane on a winner take all basis but it is said Martinson is hedging on that proposition.

CHICAGO WOULD PUT TAX ON PROFESSIONAL PLAYERS

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—An ordinance was presented to the city council which would require a special tax on all professional athletes in Chicago.

Five per cent of all gate receipts would go toward a fund for school boy athletics.

Ball players, under the terms of the ordinance, would be licensed at $50 each; wrestlers and boxers $75; all others, $5 each. A tax of $100 would be levied on managers, trainers and seconds.

The ordinance is in the hands of the council finance committee Thursday for action.

RICHARDS SURE OF TITLE NEXT YEAR

Badger Coach Says He is Due for Conference Championship in 1922

In spite of the rude shock to his championship aspirations this fall, Dr. John Richards, captain of the University of Wisconsin football team, is an optimist. At a banquet last Saturday night for members of his team, the All Americans, and prominent backers of football in Madison, Richards declared his team would be in the running again next year.

"We were up so high again this year that a turn of the hand either way had to be the deciding factor," said Coach Richards. "Even if we haven't been getting the breaks of the game, we have kept our team near the top and if we can keep it there consistently it is sure to come out supreme some time."

"I figure that our team should be good for a championship at least once out of five years. This was my fourth year—and there is no reason why next year we should not arrive."

"Big Jawn" declared that eligibility was to be the main factor and pointed with pride to the high standards maintained by the university, which makes it paramount that an athlete must be first a student.

Among those who spoke were Guy Sundt, retiring captain and Captain-Set Rolfe Williams, "T." Gould, George Bunge, "Shorty" Barr, "Chuck" Carpenter, Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, George I. Downer, G. S. Lowman, Dr. W. E. Maxwell and Prof. Warren Taylor.

Stevens "T" Gould, one of the mainstays of Richards' teams this year is a native of Oshkosh, cradle of university football stars. Gould played his last game with the Badger school this year.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgrow" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgrow" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

SAME OLD FISKE AS

PLEASEING AS EVER

Irish Singer and Actor Presents

Laughing Play to Immense Audience

Fiske O'Hara presented another one of his typical O'Hara plays, with lots of comedy, a few pretty songs and much love making, to a capacity audience in Appleton theater Wednesday night. It was another Fiske O'Hara play, giving him a chance to sing a few of his pretty Irish ditties and to be a smiling, dashing hero, a part which he plays very well. The name of the play doesn't make much difference but it was called "The Happy Cavalier".

Mr. O'Hara knew what he was talking about when he said, in a curtain speech, that next year he will have to spend two nights in Appleton. The big playhouse was filled to the roof and hundreds of persons, easily enough to fill the theater again, were turned away because no more seats were available.

O'Hara's cast was about as good as ever although several of his old time supporters were missed. His voice was in good trim but he didn't sing quite as much as Appleton people have been accustomed to. His "I am Always in Love with Someone" number was his most popular number.

OFFER CALF FREE

AT HOLSTEIN SALE

Purebred Holstein Bull Calf to be Given Away by Breeders Organization

Some owner of a herd of grade Holstein cattle will be presented with a purebred Holstein bull calf as the gift of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association at the first of two bull sales to be held at 1300 Wednesday, Dec. 7, at the Robert Tiedt and son farm, Twelve Corners.

This young sire will be awarded to some farmer who attends the sale before the consignment auction of 15 fine sons of record dams begins. The association has purchased the animal out of its own funds and will give it away free of charge.

Every sire offered at this sale is from a tested dam. One of the dams has a yearly record of more than 900 pounds of butter fat, indicating that the sale committee has picked from the best herds.

A second sale will be held at Seymour possibly Dec. 13, depending on how rapidly the consignments come in, according to Edward O. Mueller, secretary.

INVITE WOMEN TO HEAR SEN. LAFOLLETTE'S SON

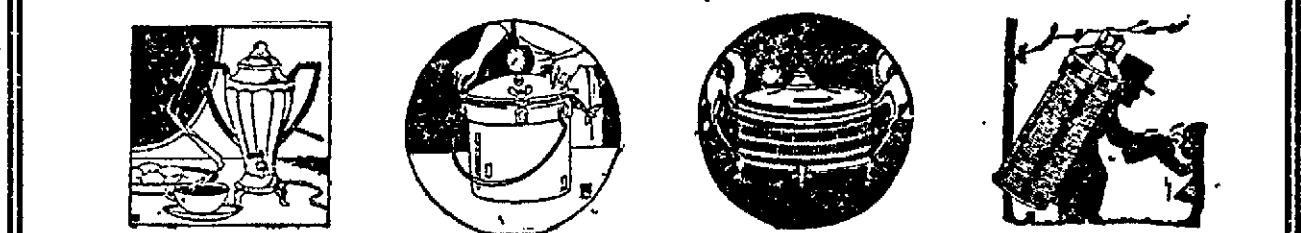

Appleton women have been given a special invitation to hear the address of Phillip LaFollette at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the court house. His subject is not announced, but the announcements say he will speak on "matters of vital importance to the people."

It is possible that the son of the senior United States senator may touch on the organization of a LaFollette progressive club in this county, as is being done in other parts of the state in readiness for coming political campaigns.

Let's Make This an Old-Fashioned Christmas

GOOD BOOKS

The Christmas Gift That a Friend Can Give a Friend

MANY gifts there are, that a friend might give a friend—but the most intimate gift of all is a book. A rather trite old saying has classified books as friends—well, why not give one of these friends to a friend? Rather mixed up—but the truth of the matter is there just the same, books make the friendlist of all Christmas gifts.

There's a Wealth of New Books

ONE may choose from the most fascinating of new novels for holiday giving. Some of the best known of all authors have written their signatures on the title pages.

There is the "Wasted Generation" by Owen Johnson; "Helen of the Old House" by Harold Bell Wright; "The Master of Man" by Hall Caine; "The Flaming Forest" by Oliver Curwood; and "The Pride of Palomar" by Peter B. Kyne.

Rupert Hughes has written "Beauty;" and "Star Dust" by Fannie Hurst is notable. Everyone is anxious to read "Alice Adams" by Booth Tarkington and "Quinn" by Alice Hegan Rice. Likewise "More Tish" by Mary Roberts Rhinehart and "Girls" by Edna Ferber. $1.75 to $2.25.

And Still More Not So New—

BOOKS that have been written for several years have ripened with their experience of the world and are doubly worth reading. These editions are $1.

Zane Grey is represented with "Riders of the Purple Sage," "U. P. Trail," "Lone Star-Ranger," "Desert of Wheat" and "Desert of Gold." There is "Dawn" by Eleanor Porter; "The Recreation of Brian Kent" by Harold Bell Wright; "Red Pepper's Patients" and the books of Ethel Dell.

Among James Oliver Curwood's works are "The Danger Trail," "Steele of the Royal Mounted," "No-mads of the North," "The Honor of the Big Snows," "The Golden Snare," "Kazan" and "The Courage of Captain Plum." There's a host of others that will make ideal Christmas Gifts.
